Protectorate meeting,
Nov 11, 366
(April 16, 2008)

-Adrien is going to annex
Britain.

-Yolen stepping down
from being High Ambassador for the Protectorate. No one else is being assigned the position.

-Some sort of training initiative with Sanctus to unite the nations, sounds like a fancy way of trying to make preparing for war sound like something else.

-Someone tried assassinating Adrien. A vampire, open and formal.
He is moving forward his legislation against undead,
and is encouraging the others to hunt them. Is creating a special inquisition division that will "root out any undead
and halt any activity in our united realms. With your permission."

There are no objections to it. Will be spreading pamphlets about undead and Talon Skyfire's book on necromancy around.

-Believe the rift in Moonglow situation is currently contained, has been spending three weeks
there. Is speaking to Yolen about it.

-Feels renewed in the cause because someone tried assassinating him, sounds like he's using it as an excuse to push contraversial proposals forward.

-Tatiana and Tokuno are sending supplies to Moonglow for Protectorate use. Possibly something we could sabotage?

-Isk wants to reward generals for their success, to encourage "greater victories in the near future."

Near future? Is he talking about Moonglow, or hinting at something else entirely?

-Adrien plans on announcing the date of his wedding soon.

-Possible tension growing between Moonglow and Protectorate, Vaen says if people want to help Moonglow they can go directly to Fong with suggestions and help.

Adrien wants people to go to him, claiming he will be speaking with Yolen about it. Vaen says he doesn't want people to feel that they have to go through Adrien or the Protectorate to help.

-Talon and others are trying to get Moonglow to shut up, possible conflict or sense of conflict we could work with. Sense that Moonglow isn't as valued.

-- It gets better, Rhiannon:

"Last meeting you, Talon, said that Sanctus helped give birth to Moonglow and that you would be happy to quote, 'rectify this problem.'"

Adrien is trying to stop the discussion right now, claiming it has nothing to do with the rest of the Protectorate, probably trying to hide dissent or issues to make the Protectorate seem more unified.

Talon:

"Moonglow is a reckless nation. It swells, and it shrinks. Moonglow may have numbers now, but I promise you that won't last. For one, you have far too many types A personalities. There is no enough room on Moonglow for all of them to cohabitate."

Vaen:

"Unlike Sanctus, right?"

Phyrra: "I think he's upset that his people keep coming to us."

Talon: "If they come to you, we don't want them. We're happy to ship our ass and trash on over to the boys in blue."

Someone else I think in Sanctus: "More importantly, it is full of people who made attempts on our very lives not three months ago."

Vaen told Talon to "bring it".

Talon: "Well you asked for a response and there it is. And you can strap that to your ass and ride it all the way back to Fong if you like."

Vaen accused him of making empty threats. Adrien tells Vaen to not try and incite war.

-I'm left with the feeling that there is a lot of conflict between them that we might be able to exploit.
